2003-04 SEASON REVIEW

The Washington State University men's basketball team began the 2003-04 season on top of the world, made some history along the way and closed the campaign with a berth in the Pacific-10 Conference Tournament.

The Cougars opened the season at The Top of the World Classic in Fairbanks, Alaska and finished as the tournament runner-up. Marcus Moore led WSU with 14 points in a 66-46 triumph over VMI in the season opener. Moore added 20 points and Shami Gill pulled down 10 rebounds as the Cougars broke a 27-game road losing streak with a 57-51 win over tournament host Alaska Fairbanks and advanced to the title game.

Despite 16 points from Moore, the Cougars lost to Rice 64-49 in the championship tilt to fall to 2-1. Moore and Gill both earned all-tournament accolades.

After a disappointing loss at Southern Utah, the Cougars put together their first four-game winning streak since December, 1998.

WSU began the streak with a 66-46 victory over IPFW in the home opener. Thomas Kelati led the Cougars with 18 points. Randy Green came off the bench to tally 19 points as WSU routed TCU 73-52 in its next outing. Green's performance earned him a start at Montana and he responded with an 18-point effort as the Cougars knocked off the Grizzlies 64-50. WSU ran its record to 6-2 with a 62-55 win at home against Idaho behind 22 points, five assists and four steals from Moore.

The Cougars completed their nonconference schedule with losses at Fresno State and No. 15 Gonzaga before opening Pacific-10 play with a 73-51 loss at No. 5 Stanford.

In danger of falling back to .500, WSU registered a 55-50 win at California behind 15 points from Jeff Varem to raise its record to 7-5 and earn a split of the conference opening road trip. The win against the Golden Bears broke a 22-game road losing streak in Pac-10 games and a 31-game skid in California. It was also the first win in seven tries against the Golden Bears and the first since 1995 in Berkeley.

WSU's next two games were played at the Spokane Arena against UCLA and USC, respectively. A hard fought struggle against the Bruins ended in a 48-45 loss when Thomas Kelati's 3-point attempt at the buzzer rimmed out. Two days later, WSU ended a nine-game losing streak to the Trojans with Varem's 22 points and seven rebounds leading the way.

Following the win against USC, the Cougars suffered losses at Oregon State and Oregon and at home to Washington as their record fell to 8-9, 2-5 Pac-10.

The Cougars then earned a much needed win by defeating Arizona State 63-56 at home as Varem scored 17 points. WSU nearly pulled off its first weekend sweep of the season when No. 9 Arizona visited Pullman. The game was tied 57-57 in the waning moments before the Wildcats escaped with a 61-57 victory despite 29 points from Moore.

The second half of the Pac-10 began the following week in Los Angeles and the Cougars made the most of their road trip.

Kelati scored 15 points and added five rebounds as WSU recorded a historic 55-48 victory at UCLA. The win broke a 22-game losing streak against the Bruins and was the first in 47 tries for the Cougars at UCLA, including 39 games at famed Pauley Pavilion.

WSU completed its first sweep of UCLA and USC in Los Angeles and just the 11th weekend road sweep since the Pac-

The scoreboard tells the story as WSU makes history in Los Angeles.

10 began play in 1978-79 with a 60-51 win over the Trojans. The victory also marked the first season sweep of USC since 1985-86 and ended a seven-game losing streak at USC. WSU's effort in Los Angeles earned it the ESPN.com Team of the Week.

Back over .500 at 11-10, 4-5, the Cougars suffered their third three-game losing streak of the season. Oregon State scored the final six points to defeat WSU 65-58 in Pullman to sweep the season series from the Cougars. In its next outing, WSU trailed by as many as 18 points early in the second half against Oregon. The Cougars rallied to force overtime before falling 67-62.

The Cougars appeared to have a win in hand in their next game leading by three with possession of the ball and a minute to play at Washington. However, the Huskies rallied for the final seven points and a 71-67 win that dropped the Cougars to 11-13, 4-8.

Again Arizona State was the remedy for WSU as the Cougars scored a season-high 83 points in a 13-point win at Tempe. A 72-60 loss at No. 17 Arizona followed despite a career-high 27 points from Kelati.

The Cougars returned home for the final week of the season needing at least one win to qualify for the Pac-10 Tournament.

Top-ranked and undefeated Stanford came to the Palouse and, for the second time in two weeks, a seemingly sure Cougar victory ended in defeat. Over 8,000 fans were at Friel Court for the game against the Cardinal and they witnessed WSU erase a nine-point deficit and build a five-point advantage with 25 seconds remaining.

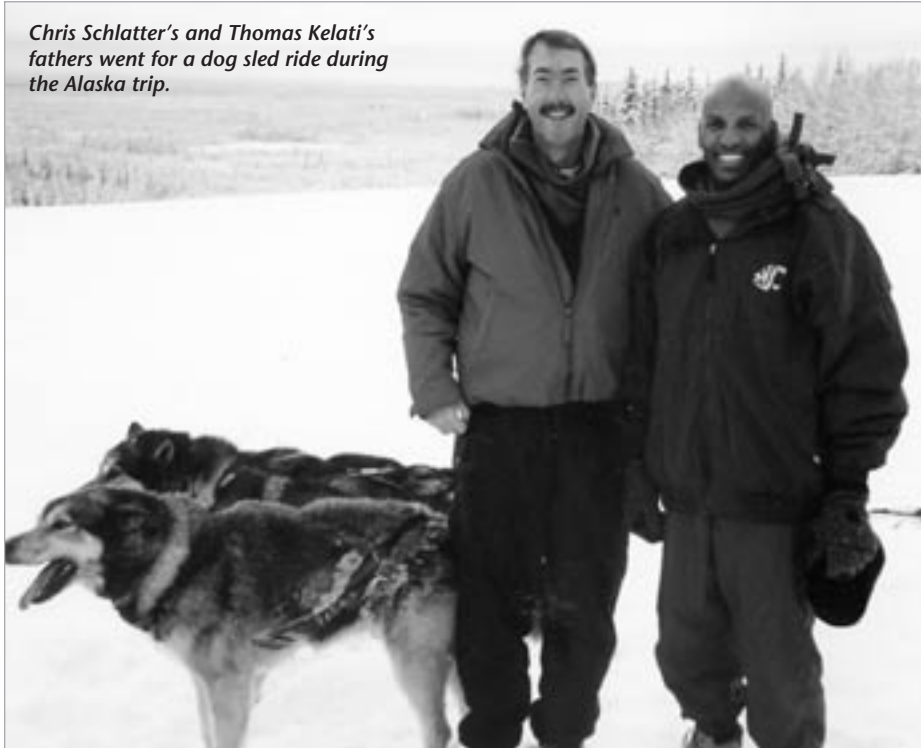

A rare four-point play cut the Cougars' lead to one. After WSU failed to inbound the ball, the stage was set for a dramatic finish. Stanford took possession with 17 seconds left and held for the final shot. A loose ball scramble ensued and Matt Lottich broke the hearts of Cougar fans with a falling away shot from well beyond the 3-point arc to give the Cardinal an improbable 63-61 win.

With one game left in the regular season, the story was simple for the Cougars. A win would earn a spot in the Pac-10 Tournament. A loss would end the season.

Moore, a senior, refused to let his career end. He led WSU with 17 points as the Cougars beat California 70-58. The win was the third season sweep of a Pac-10 opponent marking the first time in nine years the Cougars had accomplished the feat.

Washington State's season came to a close with a 68-47 loss to No. 2 Stanford in the first round of the conference tournament. The Cougars finished 13-16 to record their most victories since 1996-97. In addition, WSU won seven Pac-10 games and six road games, the most since 1995-96.

Chris Schlatter's and Thomas Kelati's fathers went for a dog sled ride during the Alaska trip.

Moore and Kelati earned honorable mention all-conference honors and Moore closed his career with 1,458 points, fifth on WSU's all-time list. In addition, Moore's 168 steals and 423 assists ranked third and fourth, respectively in Cougar history.

As a team, the Cougars led the Pac-10 in scoring defense, giving up 59.7 points per game, the lowest average yielded by a Pac-10 team since Oregon State in 1984-85. WSU ranked in the top 15 nationally in scoring defense, free throw percentage and fewest turnovers committed per game.
