Why Washington

"I fell in love with the coaches, players and community at WSU the moment I stepped on campus. Everyone had a clear vision for success and I felt the program emphasized the importance of the players being well-rounded individuals as well as exceptional athletes."

—Senior Kate Benz
Forward
WSU Women's Basketball

"I chose WSU because I always thought that the Washington State Cougars were the best team on the West Coast. I've wanted to come play football here since I was a little kid so this experience has been a bit of a dream for me. The coaches here are about the most entertaining staff I've ever met and that makes me want to play harder."

—Senior Mkristo Bruce
Defensive End
WSU Football

"I chose Washington State because I wanted to reach my fullest potential."

State University?

"The community and family-like atmosphere at Washington State makes me feel at home. Students come to WSU from all over the country and are immediately comfortable because of the quality support staff and warmhearted Cougar community."

—Senior Angela Fajardo
Defender
WSU Soccer

"I chose Washington State because it had so many positive things to offer. Pullman, Washington offers such a sense of community. Everyone in town is so friendly to the college student, and the residents go out of their way to make us feel welcome."

I majored in sociology and criminal justice while in school here and thoroughly enjoyed my program curriculum. All of my professors were very understanding of my travel schedule during the season and were always willing to meet with me outside of the classroom when I needed extra help.

The coaches here really care about the athletes. I made huge improvements while competing under Rick Sloan and finished my collegiate career with five All-American certificates. I couldn't have asked for anything more from a Division I school."

—Five-time All-American and Pacific-10 Champion,
Ellannee Richardson
WSU assistant coach and former heptathlete
WSU Track & Field

"The coaching staff at WSU made me feel at ease from the first moment I talked to them. As soon as I arrived on campus, I felt like I was instantly a part of a big, extended family. My teammates and coaches are excited about Cougar athletics and that is a contagious feeling. WSU has a unique feel and that helps me stay focused on my sport as well as my studies."

Student-Athlete Development

STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

Our Student-Athlete Development unit initiates support for academic and personal success during on-campus recruiting visits with prospective student-athletes, and continues providing support and services until student-athletes graduate from WSU. Our student-athlete development staff is committed to developing and implementing comprehensive and effective programs to assist student-athletes in identifying and meeting their academic and career goals leading to graduation and career development. We take a "life skills" approach when assisting student-athletes with class selection, major selection, graduation planning, career development, time management, goal setting, study skills, and learning strategies.

Our focus is the student-athlete and his personal development. We reinforce the value of maximizing the educational and career opportunities at WSU. And, most importantly, our staff emphasizes the importance of student-athletes taking personal responsibility and ownership in developing their academic and career plans. Our 92 percent graduation rate for those seniors who have exhausted their eligibility (over the past 10 years) reflects our consistent commitment to academic success while striking a balance between academics and athletics.

THAD HATHAWAY Academic Support Services

Thad Hathaway enters his fifth year at Washington State University and his second as assistant director for academic support services. His duties include counseling, advising, supporting, developing and enhancing academic performance for WSU's student-athletes. He works directly with men's basketball and baseball.

A 1997 graduate of the University of Idaho, Hathaway is in his eighth year working in academic services for college athletics. He spent four years at his alma mater prior to coming to WSU. He completed his master's degree at Idaho in 2002 while serving as the Vandals' academic program advisor for athletics.

Hathaway and his wife Diane have one son, Cody.

Mentor Program for Student-Athletes of Color

In creating a multicultural environment in the Athletic Department, this program reflects in part the University's commitment to diversity. A mentoring relationship provides the mentor with the opportunity for providing student-athletes with professional and personal growth, and the satisfaction of assisting students to develop the skills necessary to become successful in all of their endeavors:

This program provides benefits to student-athletes of color by:

- Promoting communication among student-athletes, coaches, and athletic administrators on minority issues
- Providing feedback and insight into Athletic Department issues
- Generating a student-athlete voice within the Athletic Department shaping policies
- Equipping student-athletes with information about what a positive image means on campus
- Improving minority retention and graduation rates by demonstrating an interest in the personal growth of the student-athlete
- Helping student-athletes prepare for transition into college life
- Enhancing interpersonal relationships in the life of the student-athlete
- Helping student-athletes of color build a positive self-esteem
- Helping student-athletes of color make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Helping student-athletes of color realize their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Providing a supportive learning environment that encourages academic achievement

Many functions are planned by the Mentor Program to enhance the relationships between student-athletes and mentors. These functions help in informally matching mentors with student-athletes of color naturally who desire to experience a smoother transition into the Washington State University environment.

graduation from Washington State University and the achievement of a successful sports career. The WSU Athletic Department is committed to producing student-athletes of color who epitomize professionalism.

Milford Hodge
Mentoring Coordinator

The ultimate goal of this program for student-athletes of color is to ensure their

Athletic Medicine

MIKE COCO
Certified Athletic Trainer

Mike Coco is in his ninth season as a certified athletic trainer at Washington State University. He is in charge of keeping the Cougars healthy through carefully structured preventative care programs and oversees the rehabilitation of injured players.

In addition to his men's basketball responsibilities, the Colorado graduate works with men's and women's golf, football and has worked with baseball, volleyball and women's tennis at WSU.

After graduating from Colorado with a degree in kinesiology, Coco served an internship with the Denver Broncos before beginning work toward his master's degree.

He earned his graduate degree in sports administration from Northern Colorado in 1994. He served a three-year stint at Excel Therapy in Colorado Springs, Colo., prior to accepting a position as assistant athletic trainer at Eastern Washington University in 1996.

Coco was the Eagles' primary athletic trainer for all women's sports, as well as men's indoor and outdoor track. He also assisted with EWU's football and men's basketball teams for two years prior to coming to WSU.

He and his wife, the former Andrea Wade are parents of seven-year-old Matthew and five-year-old Alex.

UNIVERSITY

- 2006-07 ATC Intern –Devan Baker
- 2006-07 Athletic Training Student – Aaron Pierce

- Eight certified athletic trainers.
- More than 30 student assistants majoring in athletic training.
- Three sports medicine team physicians.

Prevention of athletic injuries is the number one goal of WSU's staff, along with care and rehabilitation. When injuries do occur, the Cougar athletic medicine staff provide the very best in care and use state-of-the-art equipment to return the student-athlete to 100 percent recovery.

WASHINGTON STATE

Weight Room

DAVID LANG

Associate Director of Physical Development

David Lang is in his sixth year as the associate director of physical development for Washington State University and seventh overall on the Palouse.

A certified club coach for the USA weightlifting, Lang graduated from Wisconsin-Whitewater in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in science. He earned his master's degree in science at Austin Peay State University in 1995. He was the head strength coach for the Governors from 1994-95.

In 1994, Lang, a native of Fort Atkinson, Wis., became a certified strength and conditioning specialist through the National Strength & Conditioning Association. He is also certified by the Collegiate Strength & Conditioning Coaches Association.

Before coming to WSU, Lang worked at the University of Illinois-Champaign (1995-96) and Colgate University (1996-98).

UNIVERSITY

With two floors covering 14,000 square feet and featuring state-of-the-art equipment, WSU's weight room is considered one of the top facilities in the nation.

V. LANE RAWLINS

President

V. Lane Rawlins is Washington State University's ninth president. A labor economist, leads one of the nation's most productive research universities, classified with 96 of America's leading public and private universities with very high research activity by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Under the guidance of a new strategic plan, that he initiated, student enrollment and admission standards are at an all time high. Research funding has also reached new levels, and WSU has experienced a substantial increase in the enrollment of high-ability students.

With Rawlins' leadership, the university's campuses in Pullman, Vancouver, Spokane and the Tri-Cities have evolved into a University system in which WSU's regional campuses have greater flexibility to meet the needs of their communities. In the past five years, more than $300 million in construction has taken place including major facilities for research in shock physics and biotechnology.

Rawlins has received recognition for his research, leadership and communication. He is a member of the Governor's Global Competitiveness Council and the Technology Alliance Board of Directors. Rawlins also serves as the Pac-10 representative to the NCAA.

Rawlins' association with WSU began in 1968, when he joined the faculty of the WSU Department of Economics. He published widely in major journals and co-authored books on labor economics and public policy. He chaired the department and, later, served as WSU vice provost. He then served as vice chancellor of the University of Alabama System and for nine years as president of The University of Memphis before returning to WSU.

Born in southeastern Idaho, Rawlins completed his bachelor's degree in economics at Brigham Young University in Utah and earned a doctoral degree in economics from the University of California Berkeley.

Rawlins and his wife Mary Jo have three children and 11 grandchildren.

JIM STERK

Director of Athletics

Washington native James M. Sterk was appointed Washington State University's director of athletics in June of 2000. In his six years, Sterk has seen unprecedented growth and success by the Cougars' 17 intercollegiate teams and 450 individuals who compete for WSU annually.

On the academic front, WSU earned 113 selections to Pacific-10 Conference All-Academic teams in 2004-05. That figure represented the most student-athletes to earn such an honor during an academic year in school history. WSU nearly reached this standard in 2005-06 with 109 selections to conference all-academic teams.

On the field, Cougar Athletics has enjoyed extraordinary achievements highlighted by three consecutive 10-win seasons by the football program from 2001-03. Most recently, 10 sports were represented either as a team or individually in NCAA postseason competition during the 2005-06 season. Featured in this group was the rowing team's fourth place finish at the NCAA Championships, the highest finish ever by a WSU women's team in NCAA postseason competition.

Facility improvements have also been among projects Sterk has tackled. Following the 2006 football season, the initial phases of a renovation to Martin Stadium, the home of Cougar football, will commence. WSU recently completed a major baseball field renovation, becoming the first collegiate field to feature FieldTurf as a playing surface. In addition, plans are underway for an ambitious capital improvement plan that will enhance many other WSU sport facilities.

A 1980 graduate of Western Washington University, Sterk received his master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University. His professional career has included positions at North Carolina, Maine, Seattle Pacific, Tulane and Portland State, the latter as director of athletics for five years before joining the Cougar staff.

The foundation of Sterk's leadership plan is based on five areas: the student-athlete experience, resource acquisition, personnel, political dynamics, and facilities. All five areas have enjoyed growth in his first six years at Washington State University.

Sterk currently is a member of the prestigious NCAA Championship/Competition cabinet and has served on numerous Pacific-10 Conference committees during his tenure at WSU.

MARCIA SANEHOLTZ

Senior Associate Director of Athletics/SWA

Marcia Sanholtz has been an integral part of Cougar athletics for more than two decades, has been instrumental in the improvement of facilities since her appointment in 1982. She was the driving force in attaining the 1997 NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championships, 2001 Women's Basketball West Regional and 2003 Men's Basketball First and Second Rounds for Washington State to host at the Spokane Arena. The success of these events led to subsequent opportunities to host premier NCAA events.

From March 6 until July 1, 2000, Sanholtz served as the interim Athletic Director at WSU. Sanholtz was named a WSU Woman of Distinction in 2003.

Originally from Napoleon, Ohio, Sanholtz received her bachelor's degree from Bowling Green State University and taught in the Los Angeles public schools for three years. She moved north, taught in several Seattle-area school systems as a substitute and coached in the CYO and Seattle Parks Department programs. She was active as an official and administrator in the Washington, Northwest, and national officials associations from 1973-82.

After earning her master's degree in sports administration at the University of Washington, Sanholtz was appointed the assistant women's athletic director at Washington State.

Sanholtz was promoted to associate athletic director in 1982 and currently serves as a senior associate director of athletics and is the Senior Woman Administrator at WSU.

She served on the National Association of Collegiate Women's Athletic Administrators (NACWAA) Board of Directors from 1987-94, including a term as president in 1992-93. She was selected the NACWAA National Administrator of the Year in 1997.

Sanholtz has been a strong presence on several NCAA committees. She has served as the chair of the NCAA Women's Division I Volleyball Committee. Other NCAA memberships include the Committee on Athletic Certification (1993-99), chair of the Peer Selection Subcommittee (1992-99), President's Commission Liaison Committee (1992-96), the Women's Committee on Committees (1989-92) and the NCAA Committee on Women's Athletics (2001-05). She has also served on numerous Pacific-10 Conference committees including two terms as vice president (1988-89 and 1998-99).

Sanholtz and her husband, Byron, have two grown daughters, Jennifer and Amy.

KEN CASAVANT

Faculty Athletics Representative

Professor Ken Casavant, a member of the Washington State University family since 1967, currently serves as WSU's Faculty Athletics Representative to the Pacific-10 Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. He is a past president of the Pac-10 and was recently chosen to serve on the NCAA Division I Management Council.

Casavant came to WSU as a graduate research assistant in the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics. He was named an assistant professor in 1971, an associate professor in 1975 and a full professor in 1980.

In 2004, Casavant received the honor of giving the Distinguished Faculty Address, the University's oldest award and also received the Sahlin Excellence in Public Service award for the University. In 1979, Casavant received the R.M. Wade award for outstanding teacher in the college of agriculture at WSU, and in 1990, he earned the distinguished WSU Faculty of the Year award. Casavant was elected vice-chair (1991-92) and chair (1992-93) of the WSU Faculty Senate and has been accorded the Distinguished Teacher award by the American Agricultural Economics Association. He was named Distinguished Scholar by the Western Agricultural Economics Association in 2003 for his nationally recognized work as a transportation economist.

During his tenure at WSU, Casavant has served as associate director for the Washington State Transportation Center (1984-87) and the interim Vice-Provost for Academic Affairs and interim Vice-Provost for Research (1998).

The North Dakota native is a 1965 graduate of North Dakota State University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in agricultural economics. He received his master's degree from NDSU, followed by a Ph.D., from WSU in 1971.

Ken and his wife Dorothy have two grown daughters, Michele and Colette.
