2004-05 SEASON REVIEW

No team played more close games in 2004-05 than Washington State. Of the 28 games the Cougars played, a dozen were decided by three points or less.

WSU won 12 games giving Cougar Head Coach Dick Bennett 25 victories in his first two seasons on the Palouse. Included among the triumphs last season was a 70-63 upset at No. 11 Arizona, the Cougars' first over the Wildcats since 1986.

In addition, senior Thomas Kelati became the first Cougar player in seven seasons and the 13th in school history to be named first team All-Pacific-10 Conference.

If not for several close losses, WSU was 4-8 in the games decided by three points or less and 0-4 in overtime, the Cougars may have found themselves in postseason play.

WSU began its season 3-1 thanks largely to a stifling defense. The Cougars opened their season by knocking off Montana State 59-42. It was the fewest points WSU gave up in a season opener since the 1948-49 season.

The Cougars defeated Georgia Southern at home and Idaho on the road sandwiched around a loss at Kansas State. During the first four games, WSU yielded 182 total points, its best four-game stretch since Dec. 1951. The Cougars finished the season ranked sixth nationally in scoring defense at 56.9 points per game. It was the best scoring defense mark by a Pac-10 team since Oregon State in 1983-84, prior to the 3-point line and shot clock in college basketball.

WSU dropped its next two games, losing at No. 6 Oklahoma State and at home to No. 25 Gonzaga. In the latter, freshman Josh Akognon's 3-point attempt at the buzzer hit the front of the rim and the Bulldogs escaped Pullman with a 54-52 victory.

The Cougars followed with a pair of close wins away from home, defeating BYU 49-46 at the Delta Center in Salt Lake City and downing Portland 55-54 in the Rose City.

WSU made 5-of-6 free throws in the final 39 seconds to preserve its victory against BYU. Freshman Robbie Cowgill scored four points in the final 1:20 of the win at Portland.

The Cougars' nonconference portion of the schedule concluded with a 49-47 loss at Wyoming despite 16 points from Kelati on the strength of 4-for-9 shooting from beyond the arc.

Spokane was the site of WSU's first two Pac-10 games. The Cougars opened their conference season with a 60-51 win over Stanford behind senior Jeff Varem's 18 points and

Chris Schlatter

12 rebounds. The victory broke a 17-game losing streak against the Cardinal dating back to 1996 and marked the first time in six seasons WSU captured its conference opener.

After a loss to California, WSU headed to Los Angeles looking for a second straight road sweep of UCLA and USC. Only a tremendous second half effort by the Bruins stopped the Cougars short of their goal.

WSU led UCLA by 15 at halftime and increased its lead to 17 just shy of three minutes into the second half. UCLA's Josh Shipp made 1-of-2 free throws with 11 seconds left in regulation to tie the game at 62 and send it into overtime. This time it was the Cougars' turn to make a comeback. WSU trailed 69-64 with 1:18 remaining in the first overtime before Kelati scored five straight points, including a trey as time expired to force a sixth period.

The Bruins' Dijon Thompson scored five points in the second overtime as UCLA came away with an 80-77 win.

The Cougars rebounded with victories at USC and at home against Oregon State. Varem tallied a game-high 21 points in a 69-52 win over the Trojans and added 14 points and 13 rebounds in a 63-45 victory over the Beavers.

Following losses at home to Oregon, at No. 10 Washington and at Arizona State, WSU found itself below .500 for the first time in 2004-05 and faced with the unenviable task of playing at No. 11 Arizona.

Even the staunchest of Cougar supporter did not feel WSU would end its three-game slide against the eventual NCAA regional final participant Wildcats. After all, the Cougars had lost 20 straight at Arizona, 38 consecutive overall to the Wildcats, 26 straight road games against ranked opponents and 48 consecutive overall to top 25 foes. Someone forgot to tell Dick Bennett's Cougars.

WSU led by as many as six in the first half and trailed 34-33 at intermission. The second half was a see-saw battle that featured nine lead changes. The last of those came when Kelati's 3-pointer put the Cougars up 61-59 at the 3:10 mark. With the game tied at 63, Kelati connected from beyond the arc for the seventh time in the game to give WSU a 66-63 advantage with 52 seconds left. The Walla Walla native added a pair of free throws with 32 seconds remaining to cap a 27-point game, including 22 in the second half. Freshman Derrick Low and Varem each added a free throw in the waning moments to secure WSU's historic win.

The Cougars returned home to host the Los Angeles schools. Just like the road trip to southern California earlier in the season, WSU came within an eyelash of a weekend sweep.

WSU trailed 46-40 with just over three minutes remaining in regulation before Kelati's seven points keyed a 9-0 run and gave the Cougars a 49-46 advantage over the Bruins with six seconds left. Once again UCLA's Thompson played spoiler as a defensive mix up by WSU left him open for a game-tying 3-pointer that forced overtime. In the extra session, Thompson's jumper with 41 seconds remaining proved to be the winning points as the Bruins won 58-56.

WSU evened its record at 10-10 with a 61-53 conquering of USC as four players scored in double figures. The win gave the Cougars back-to-back season sweeps of the Trojans for the first time in 28 years.

at home to No. 15 Washington, the Cougars were 10-13, 5-9 in the Pac-10. With the Arizona schools coming to Pullman and a road trip to the Bay Area looming, most felt WSU needed two wins to advance to Staples Center in Los Angeles for the Pac-10 Tournament.

The Cougars played host to No. 9 Arizona seeking their first sweep of the Wildcats in 22 years. WSU led by as many as eight points in the first half and held a 32-30 advantage at intermission. Arizona took its first lead of the game at 44-42 with 5:10 remaining in regulation on a jumper by Channing Frye.

A pair of Varem free throws, a Low 3-pointer and a jumper by Kelati produced a 7-1 run that gave WSU a 49-45 lead with 2:34 left. Arizona's Salim Stoudamire made two free throws to cut WSU's lead to 49-47 and Frye tallied two of his game-high 26 points with 51 ticks remaining to tie the score at 49 and send the game into overtime.

The extra period produced five lead changes, the last coming with 10 seconds left on a pair of Ivan Radenovic free throws that gave Arizona a 57-56 victory.

Two days later, WSU scored the first eight points of the game and built a 14-point halftime lead against Arizona State. In the second half, the Sun Devils used runs of 10-2 and 9-1 to take their first lead of the game at 44-43 with 6:11 remaining.

The lead changed hands four times over the next two minutes before Arizona State surged ahead 55-52 with 1:38 left. The Cougars pulled within a point on a layup by Varem and the senior gave WSU the ball back when he stole it from Sun Devils' All-American Ike Diogu with 36 seconds remaining.

Kelati missed a jumper that would have given the Cougars the lead, but Low rebounded to give WSU a second chance. Kelati found senior Chris Schlatter on the left wing and the Lafayette, Calif., native drained a 3-pointer with 10 seconds left to give the Cougars a 57-55 win.

Cowgill registered a season-high 15 points in a 59-48 win at Stanford, the Cougars' first win on The Farm since 1996 and first home-and-home sweep of the Cardinal since 1992-93. The win was the seventh Pac-10 victory of the season for WSU and clinched a spot in the conference tournament.

In their final game before the Pac-10 Tournament, the Cougars lost 63-57 in overtime at California despite a career-high 29 points by Kelati.

Facing Stanford for the third time in 2004-05, WSU again played well in the first half. The Cougars never trailed in the opening stanza, led by as many as 10-points, and were on top 31-24 at halftime.

WSU increased its cushion to 36-27 before Stanford went on a 15-2 run to gain the lead at 46-38 with 10:37 to play. The Cougars chipped away at the Cardinal lead and pulled even at 54 on Kelati's 3-pointer with 4:32 remaining.

Schlatter's trey put WSU back on top 57-56 with 1:13 left. A layup by Stanford's Nick Robinson and a Varem free throw knotted the game at 58 with 40 seconds remaining.

The Cardinal's Rob Little scored in the low post to put Stanford up 60-58 with 15 seconds left. The Cougars played for a shot that would tie or take the lead, but Schlatter's jumper as time expired was off the mark and WSU's season came to a heartbreaking end at 12-16.

Kelati finished his career ranked in several WSU season and career categories including 18th in scoring with 1,081 points and second in 3-pointers with 232, one shy of the school record.

WSU showed promise for the future as five true freshmen made a least one start for the first time in school history and combined for 53 starts overall. Both Low and Cowgill earned All-Pac-10 Freshman honorable mention honors.
