Ken Bone Head Coach Fourth Season Seattle Pacific, 1983

After two-straight postseason appearances, including the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) in 2010-11 and the championship round of the College Basketball Invitational (CBI) in 2011-12, Ken Bone returns for his fourth season as head coach of the Washington State University men's basketball program. Named the 17th head coach in Cougar basketball history April 6, 2009, Bone spent the previous four years resurrecting the program at Portland State where he led the Vikings to NCAA Tournament appearances his final two seasons.

In three seasons, Bone holds a 57-46 (.553) mark with Washington State and already has more wins than nine previous Cougar men's basketball coaches. His .553 winning percentage marks the third-best by a WSU head coach in his first three seasons, as Tony Bennett (.679, 69-33) and Jack Friel (.554, 41-33) are the only two with better records in their first three seasons. His 57 wins are the second-most by a Cougar head coach after three seasons.

In 2011-12 Ken Bone became the fifth WSU head coach to take his team to two postseason tournaments, and just the third to accomplish the feat in consecutive seasons, as the Cougars made their first appearance in the CBI, reaching the championship round where they fell to Pittsburgh, two games to one, in the best-of-three series. Bone led his squad to a 4-2 mark in the CBI, notching the most single-season postseason wins by any WSU team, bettering the previous season's 3-1 postseason record. The Cougars finished with a 19-18 overall record, marking the sixth-straight winning season.

At the conclusion of the season, four Cougars earned All-Pac-12 honors, highlighted by Brock Motum being named to the First Team and the league's Most Improved Player. Junior Reggie Moore was named Pac-12 Honorable Mention, senior Marcus Capers All-Defensive Team Honorable Mention and DaVonté Lacy All-Freshman Team Honorable Mention. In the classroom, redshirt senior Abe Lodwick earned Pac-12 All-Academic Second Team honors, marking this third-straight all-academic accolades. He was joined on the team by sophomore Patrick Simon, while redshirt senior Charlie Enquist was named honorable mention.

As the Cougars' second-year head coach in 2010-11, Bone led his squad to a 22-13 overall mark and to the semifinals of the NIT at New York's Madison Square Garden. WSU's 22 wins tie for the 10th most in school history as it reached 20-plus wins for just the 18th time.

Under Bone's tutelage, junior Klay Thompson earned All-Pac-10 First team honors for the second-straight year, becoming just the fourth Cougar to be named first team all-league in multiple seasons. Thompson went on to become the 11th pick of the 2011 NBA Draft, going to the Golden State Warriors as the highest NBA Draft pick in school history.

Fellow junior DeAngelo Casto went on to earn second-team all-conference honors and became the first Cougar to earn a spot on the Pac-10 All-Defensive Team twice, picking up his second-consecutive honor. In the classroom, junior Lodwick was named to the Pac-10 All-Academic first team, picking up academic honors for the second-consecutive season.

In his first year at the helm for WSU in 2009-10, Bone led the Cougars to a 16-15 overall mark and 6-12 Pacific-10 Conference record. Under his leadership, Thompson earned All-Pac-10 First Team honors, while Casto was named honorable mention all-conference and to the Pac-10 All-Defensive team. Moore rounded out the accolades as he was named to the conference's five-man all-freshman team.

Proving that academics hold an important part of his coaching philosophy, at the conclusion of the season, two Cougars were named to the Pac-10 All-Conference teams, Nikola Koprivica to the first squad and Lodwick to the second.

Prior to his stint at WSU, Bone spent the previous four years as the head coach at Portland State, leading the Vikings to back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances in 2007-08 and 2008-09. The Vikings went 23-10 during each of the last two years, the two best seasons in the 48-year history of the program. In his four seasons with the Vikings, Bone posted a 77-49 record, the best winning percentage of any PSU coach since basketball was reinstated in 1996-97 (.611).

Bone led Portland State to its finest season in school history in 2007-08, winning a school-record 23 games en route to the Big Sky Conference regular season and tournament titles and making the school's first appearance in the NCAA Division I Tournament. As a result, Bone earned Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year honors, becoming the first Viking basketball coach to do so.

His encore performance in 2008-09 was equally impressive. The Vikings again won 23 games on their way to a second-place regular season finish in the Big Sky and second-straight conference tournament title. The automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament meant PSU was going dancing for the second time in program history, and the second year in a row, this time as a No. 13 seed. The season included PSU's first win over a ranked opponent when the Vikings upended No. 7 Gonzaga 77-70 in Spokane (Dec. 23, 2008). The Vikings also gave Washington a scare with a one-point, 84-83 loss in Seattle (Dec. 14, 2008).

During his final two seasons at PSU, Bone coached a Big Sky Conference Player and Newcomer of the Year, the Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year and six All-Big Sky selections. In his four years, the Vikings had 10 All-Big Sky selections.

No stranger to the Pacific Northwest, Bone holds a 351-181 record in 18 years as a head coach, including 12 seasons at his alma mater, Seattle Pacific University. He registered a 253-97 (.723) record with the Falcons between 1990 and 2002. Bone's SPU teams claimed six outright or shared Pacific West Conference championships and earned eight NCAA playoff appearances. The Falcons made five trips to the NCAA Division II Sweet 16 over a span of eight years, including a semifinal appearance in 2000 that capped a 27-5 season. In 2000, Bone was recognized as both NABC District 8 Coach of the Year and PacWest Conference Co-Coach of the Year.

During Bone's final season at Seattle Pacific, the Falcons posted a 24-5 record, advanced to the second round of the NCAA playoffs and were ranked ninth in the final 2002 poll.

Between his stints at SPU and PSU, Bone spent the 2002-05 seasons as an assistant coach at the University of Washington, playing a major role as the program returned to national prominence.

In 2005 Bone helped direct Washington to the Pacific-10 Conference title as the Huskies earned a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the Sweet 16. The previous year, Washington had a runner-up finish in the Pac-10 regular-season standings. In 2004 the Huskies advanced to the championship game of the Pac-10 Tournament and competed in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1999. That season UW swept the three meetings with highly-ranked Arizona and capped the regular season with a win over No. 1 and undefeated Stanford.

Bone's time spent in Seattle and around the Northwest has made him a seasoned, and renowned, recruiter of the area. During his stint at Washington he helped lure five in-state signees, including All-American Jon Brockman. At PSU, Bone reeled in seven players from Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. At WSU, Bone has been responsible for bringing in 11 Washington-natives, including six scholarship players in his three seasons.

A Seattle native, Bone graduated from Seattle Pacific in 1983 and received his master's in athletic administration in 1993. He played two seasons (1980-82) at SPU after one-year stints at Shoreline and Edmonds (Wash.) Community Colleges. He is a Shorecrest (Wash.) High School graduate.

Ken and his wife Connie have three daughters, Kendra, Jenae and Chelsea.

"Growing up in the state of Washington and being aware of Washington State University for many years, I always thought it would be a great place to coach basketball. To have the opportunity to coach in the Pac-10 and to bring my family here and raise our three daughters in a nice community is very exciting."

Curtis Allen enters his 10th season under the tutelage of Washington State University head coach Ken Bone and fourth as an assistant coach for the Cougars in 2012-13. Allen serves as an assistant coach, recruiter, and on-the-floor coach at WSU.

Bone served as an assistant coach during Allen's final two seasons as a member of the University of Washington basketball team. Ben Johnson Assistant Coach, Ninth Season Wisconsin-Green Bay, 1992

The most familiar with Washington State University men's basketball among the coaching staff, Ben Johnson enters his ninth season as an assistant coach, recruiter and on-the-floor coach at WSU in 2012-13, and his fourth under head coach Ken Bone.

Johnson assists with recruiting, scouting and on-the-court and off-the-court coaching, among other duties. From 2007-09, Johnson helped lead the Cougars to three-consecutive postseason appearances (two NCAA, one NIT), the second such occurrence in school history. In Johnson's eight years with the Cougars, they have made five postseason appearances, including five of the last six seasons.

Johnson joined the WSU coaching staff in 2004 under then-head coach Dick Bennett. He coached under the elder Bennett for two seasons before Tony Bennett took over prior to the 2006-07 season.

Johnson was a teammate of Tony Bennett's at Wisconsin-Green Bay for four seasons (1989-92). While at UW-Green Bay, Johnson, a two-year captain, helped lead the Phoenix to one NCAA Tournament and two NIT appearances. During his collegiate career, Johnson was coached by Dick Bennett.

After graduating from UW-Green Bay in 1992 with a degree in business communication, Johnson played three years of professional basketball (1993-95) in Cairns, Australia. While overseas, he began his coaching career, working as a basketball youth development officer and state clinician. During those years, he coached and developed hundreds of Australian players at the local, junior and state representative levels.

From 1995-2002, Johnson returned to UW-Green Bay, where he served as an assistant coach under former WSU Assistant Coach and Director of Player Development/Operations, Mike Heideman. In 1996, he helped guide UW-Green Bay to an appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

In 2002, Johnson made his return to Australia, where he was the head coach for the Kuyam Pride U23 Men. The following year (2003), Johnson served as head coach for both the Kuyam Pride U23 Men and the Kuyam Pride Women. The Pride Women competed in the professional Australian Basketball League. Following the 2003 season, Johnson was named Queensland Australian Basketball League Women's Coach of the Year.

Johnson, a native of Stevens Point, Wis., is married to Nicky, a former WNBL player in Townsville, Australia. They have a daughter, Samira, born in January of 2009 and a son, Aziah, born in May of 2010.

During the 2010-11 season, Johnson helped the team achieve a 22-13 overall mark and to the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament at New York's Madison Square Garden.

WSU's 22 wins tie for the 10th most in school history as it reached 20-plus wins for just the 18th time. The Cougars went 3-1 in the NIT, with the help of Johnson, marking their most wins in a single postseason.

Ray Lopes Assistant Coach, First Season College of Idaho, 1987

No stranger to the Palouse, Ray Lopes rejoins the Washington State University men's basketball staff as an assistant coach in 2012-13 after serving on the Idaho men's basketball staff the last four seasons.

Lopes was a member of Kelvin Sampson's Cougar coaching staff during the 1993-94 season as an assistant coach, before following him to Oklahoma to serve in the same capacity from 1994-2002. In Lopes' lone year with the Cougars under Sampson, WSU recorded a 20-11 overall mark, finished fourth in the Pacific-10 Conference and advanced to the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

Lopes' résumé shows success at multiple levels in his 20-plus years of coaching, and includes a Western Athletic Conference regular-season title with Fresno State in 2003 and an NBA D-League Championship with the Idaho Stampede during the 2007-08 season, as well as an NCAA Final Four appearance with Oklahoma in 2002.

At Idaho, Lopes served as an assistant coach during the 2008-09 season before being promoted to associate head coach his final three years. Lopes helped lead the Vandals to 69 victories, three top-three WAC finishes and three postseason appearances in four seasons. During that span, Idaho earned two of the team's three all-time postseason victories.

Lopes spent two years as associate head coach of the Idaho Stampede at Boise. The team finished 36-14 on its way to the 2007-08 NBA D-League Championship. During the 2006-07 season, the Stampede tied for the best record in the league at 33-17. He spent the season prior as a personnel scout for the San Antonio Spurs.

Prior to his NBA experience, Lopes was head coach at Fresno State, compiling a cumulative 50-37 record over three seasons. He was named WAC Coach of the Year and CBS Sportsline Rookie Coach of the Year in 2003 as the Bulldogs captured the WAC regular-season title.

Before he landed at Fresno, Lopes spent eight seasons as an assistant coach at the Oklahoma under Sampson. He helped the Sooners to eight-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, including a trip to the Sweet 16 in 1999 and the 2002 Final Four. While at Oklahoma, the Sooners won at least 20 games five seasons in a row, averaging 26 wins per year, including a 31-5 record in 2001-02. The Sooners had a 187-74 record while Lopes was an assistant coach and won the 2001 and 2002 Big 12 Tournament titles. Oklahoma was no worse than a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament over his final three years.

Lopes joined the Washington State staff after a four-year stint as an assistant at UC Santa Barbara from 1989-93 under head coach Jerry Pimm. The Gauchos posted a 73-44 record and advanced to three postseason tournaments. In 1990, UC Santa Barbara advanced to the second round of the NCAA Southeast Regional before losing to the Steve Smith-led Michigan State Spartans. That year, the Gauchos knocked off Jerry Tarkanian's great UNLV team that won 34 consecutive games and the NCAA title.

Lopes gained his first Division I coaching position in 1988 at Weber State under Denny Huston, where he tutored the Wildcat guards for one season. He began his coaching career at West Valley (Saratoga, Calif.) Community College as an assistant during the 1987-88 season. There he helped guide West Valley to a 23-7 record and a spot in the state tournament's Elite Eight. During his 14 seasons as an assistant coach, Lopes has been in the postseason 12 years, including 10 NCAA Tournament appearances.

A native of New Haven, Conn., Lopes moved to Hayward, Calif., as a junior in high school. He played two seasons at West Valley Community College before transferring to the College of Idaho. He was a two-year starter for the Coyotes and led them to two-consecutive district championships and trips to the NAIA National Championship in Kansas City. He earned a bachelor of arts degree in business administration from the College of Idaho in 1987.

Lopes and his wife, Pierrette, have two daughters, Alaina and Taylor, and a son, Trey.
