Head Coach Paul Wulff's Thoughts Entering Spring Practice

Are you excited to get back on the field?

Without a doubt. Last year was difficult for everyone. Players, coaches, everyone in the program. At the same time it was a learning experience and one we needed to go through as this program moves forward. When a new staff takes over there is obviously a lot of change that takes place and that is not always easy. What I think we have learned as a staff is we can't necessarily change the culture of the program or change the players attitude; that will come from them. What we have done and will continue to do is instill our own culture, our way of doing things. We have to educate, reinforce, support and encourage, provide the tools for each player to mature and develop everyday, both on and off the field. Then it is up to the student-athletes to make the right choices if they want to be a part of this program. They have to take part in the accountability, as we all do, and I really see positive changes in all phases of our program.

As for football, are you ready to shift your focus back to the field?

There is no question. We (coaches and players) have been together for an entire year and we have a better understanding of them, and they of us. With that understanding we are able to move forward, move a few players around to take advantage of their skill sets. We are teachers and last year we were limited in what we could implement in terms of our playbook, for a number of reasons. This spring our base is much higher and therefore I think we will make bigger strides. That is what is most exciting, being able to see improvement as this program moves forward.

How has the offseason conditioning program gone?

The workouts have gone very well. (Strength and Conditioning) Coach Lovat joined our staff last fall and in the short time since he has already put his stamp on the program. He is a no-nonsense coach and the players have really taken to his style. Everyone realizes it will take two or three years of gradual improvement to get where we need to be, but saying that, we have made strides this offseason. Our players will be stronger this year and the benefit will not only be improved play on the field, but physically we will be equipped to handle the punishing nature of football and therefore recover quicker from, and have fewer, injuries.

How is the injury situation heading into spring ball?

Our injury situation is less than ideal. We are going to have a lot of players missing or having limited roles in spring practice. On the offensive line Kenny Alfred will not participate as he recovers from hip surgery a few months ago, though his rehabilitation is going well and expectations are he'll be ready to go by summer. Also limited by postseason surgeries will be Micah Hamman (shoulder), Brian Danaher (shoulder) and Tyson Pencer (shoulder). Quarterback Marshall Lobbestael is on-track with his rehabilitation from knee surgery last year and will be limited in what he can do, as are running backs Chris Ivory (hamstring) and Chantz Staden (knee). Defensively, lineman Jessy Sanchez (shoulder) and linebackers Myron Beck (back) and Hallston Higgins (shoulder) are still recovering from earlier surgeries and not at full strength. While it would be nice to have everyone healthy, it gives others a chance to show what they can do and will be beneficial as we continue to build depth.

What are the challenges facing you this spring?

We need to continue to teach scheme and technique. We are spreading out the spring schedule a few days but still are limited to 15 days on the field. We need to utilize all the time we have available from meetings to time on the field. As I said last year at this time, our jobs as coaches are to make sure we keep it simple enough and that our teachings are very efficient so ultimately we are executing properly.

Last year you wanted to run the no-huddle offense but had to get away from that. Will it be back this spring?

Yes it will. We believe that the no-huddle offense is best for what we want to do but after injuries last year and our youth, we had to get away from it. It will be back this spring and will be key in our offensive development.

How is team morale heading into spring practice?

At this point the attitude of the team is the best it has been since I became head coach. You can see it in the offseason workouts, how spirited they have become. You can see it in the classroom, where our team GPA last semester was the highest it has ever been. It is all-inclusive and shows how success in some areas spills over to others. I have also seen a camaraderie developing amongst the entire team. A great example was the last women's home basketball game when the entire team decided to go as a group and support the women's team. That was great to see as a coach and what college life is all about.

Cougar Head Coach Paul Wulff

Paul Wulff enters his second spring season on the Cougar sideline after being named Washington's State's 31st head coach, Dec. 10, 2007. With his appointment Wulff became the first WSU football letterwinner and graduate to lead the Cougars since Phil Sarboe served as head coach from 1945-49.

A 1990 graduate of WSU and a four-year letterwinner, Wulff had spent the previous 15 seasons at Eastern Washington University, the final eight as head coach. There he amassed a record of 53-40. During his eight-year head coaching tenure Wulff was named Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year three times (2001, 2004, 2005) and led the Eagles into the Football Championship Subdivision playoffs three times in his last four years. He enters the 2009 campaign with a 55-51 career head coaching record in nine seasons.

"Obviously this has been a dream of mine since I joined the coaching profession," said Wulff upon his hiring. "It is my alma mater, a university with great tradition and a program I feel very strongly about. WSU is an important place in my development as a human being with respect to the university culture. Being named head coach is the biggest honor I have ever received and I am excited about the opportunity.

"Twenty-two years ago, in February of 1985, I signed a letter of intent to Washington State University," Wulff said at his initial press conference. "I was obligated to that, and I committed to it, and I chose this university over five other Pac-10 schools at that time. I am back 22 years later, and I am committed for another five years. I will make the most of it and do everything in my power to create an environment that everyone who is a Cougar can be proud of. It's going to take some work. We need to put ourselves in a position where everybody can be proud of the student-athletes in this program both on and off the field on a consistent basis."

Wulff began his coaching career at EWU in 1993 as a volunteer assistant working with the offensive line. He was named offensive line/strength coach the following season and spent four years in the position before being promoted to offensive coordinator/offensive line/strength coach in 1998.

Wulff coached 21 players to 54 Football Championship Subdivision (formerly Division I-AA) All-America honors in his first seven years at the helm of the EWU program, and two more of his players were named to the Sports Network's 2007 FCS All-America team at the conclusion of last year. Of the 21 players to earn All-America recognition, 15 have been offensive lineman.

Additionally, Wulff has mentored 15 players who have earned 18 total CoSIDA Academic All-District VIII honors and a total of 131 All-Big Sky Conference Academic team members.

As a student-athlete and four-year starter at center for the Cougars from 1986-89, Wulff was an All-America honoree himself as a senior, earning honorable mention accolades from The Sporting News. Wulff started at center under three different coaches after redshirting in 1985. He played for Jim Walden in 1986, Dennis Erickson from 1987-88 and Mike Price in 1989. He was also a member of WSU's 1988 Aloha Bowl championship team.

A 1985 graduate of Davis High School in Davis, Calif., Wulff redshirted in 1985 and started four games at guard in 1986 under Jim Walden.

Dennis Erickson directed the program in 1987 and 1988 with Wulff as his starting center both years. In 1988, the Cougars were victorious in the Aloha Bowl as Wulff earned honorable mention All-Pacific 10 Conference honors.

Under Mike Price in 1989, Wulff earned second team all-conference honors and was an honorable mention selection on the Sporting News All-America squad. He was also WSU's long snapper during his stay there.

After a successful collegiate career Wulff had a brief pro career as a center after graduating from WSU in 1990. He signed a free agent contract with the New York Jets, but was released after injuring an ankle and a rib in the preseason. He played in spring 1991 with Raleigh-Durham of the World League, then played in spring 1992 with New York-New Jersey.

Wulff was born Feb. 25, 1967, in Woodland, Calif. He and his wife Sherry have a 13-year-old daughter, Katie, and two sons, five-year-old Max and two-year-old Sam.

CHRIS BALL - Second Year

Ball, 45, begins his second season as Assistant Head Coach/Co-Defensive Coordinator/Safeties. Ball arrived at WSU after spending the 2007 season as secondary coach at the University of Pittsburgh under head coach Dave Wannstedt. During his only campaign the Panthers ranked fourth nationally in pass defense (167.3 ypg) and seventh in total defense (297.7 ypg).

Prior to that Ball served four seasons coaching the secondary at Alabama, having moved from Pullman when Price was named head coach at Alabama following the 2002 season. While at Alabama, Ball coached a Crimson Tide secondary that in 2004 led the nation in pass defense, allowing just 113.1 passing yards per game. That same year Alabama ranked second in pass efficiency defense.

The following season the Alabama secondary ranked fifth in both pass defense (160.8 ypg) and pass efficiency defense (97.8 rating), and the Crimson Tide ranked second nationally in total defense. In 2006 Ball oversaw the progress of free safety Roman Harper, who earned All-SEC honors and was a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award, presented annually to the nation's top defensive back.

From 2000-02 Ball served under Price coaching WSU's defensive backs, mentoring such Cougar greats as Lamont Thompson, Jason David, Marcus Trufant and Erik Coleman. During his three seasons WSU's defense compiled 56 interceptions, including 26 during the 2001 campaign, which tied for second nationally. That season Thompson set a WSU single-season record and led the Pacific-10 Conference with 10 interceptions en route to All-America honors.

The following season Trufant earned first-team All-Pac-10 and second-team All-America honors under the tutelage of Ball. Trufant, who was drafted 11th overall by the Seahawks in 2003, was part of a secondary that included three other current NFL players: David (New Orleans), Coleman (Atlanta) and Hamza Abdullah (Denver).

The St. Louis, Mo., native and 1981 graduate of Webster Grove High played football at Missouri Western State College and later served as a graduate assistant and defensive coordinator at his alma mater.

The 1985 All-American defensive back coached at both Northeast Missouri State (1986-87) and Akron (1987-88) before joining Price's staff in 1989. He coached at Coffeyville Community College (1990-94), Western Oregon State College (1995-96) and Missouri Western State (1997-98). Prior to joining the Cougar staff in 2000, Ball spent the 1999 season as defensive coordinator for Idaho State Head Coach Larry Lewis.

STEVE BROUSSARD - Third Year

One of WSU's all-time great running backs, Steve Broussard returned to his alma mater in January of 2007 as running backs coach under then head coach Bill Doba. When Paul Wulff was named the Cougars 31st head coach in December, 2007, he wasted no time naming his former Cougar teammate to his staff as running backs coach and special teams coordinator.

Broussard arrived at WSU after spending the previous three seasons at Portland State, the first as running backs coach and the following two in charge of wide receivers. In 2004 the Vikings led the Big Sky in rushing, averaging 204.4 yards per game. The following season he coached Shaun Bodiford to All-Big Sky honors while developing a young group of receivers.

Prior to Portland State, Broussard spent four years as a high school coach, the final two as head coach at Diamond Ranch High School in Pomona, Calif. Broussard's coaching career began in 2000 as offensive coordinator at Don Lugo High School in Chino, Calif., before moving to a similar role at Diamond Ranch in 2001.

Broussard was the 20th overall pick in the 1990 draft by the Atlanta Falcons where he spent the first four years of his NFL career. He spent the 1994 season with the Cincinnati Bengals then the final four years of his career with the Seattle Seahawks. Over his nine-year career, Broussard rushed for 2,625 yards and 19 touchdowns while catching 126 passes for 882 yards and three scores.

During his four-year Cougar career, Broussard was known as the most versatile back in WSU history. He completed his career third on the all-time rushing list, fifth on the career receiving list and owned two of the top three single-season rushing marks. At one point he held nine WSU career or single-season records.

HAROLD ETHERIDGE - Second Year

A 20-year veteran of the collegiate coaching ranks, Harold Etheridge was named the Cougars' offensive line coach in January, 2008. Etheridge most recently served as the offensive line coach at Northern Illinois during the 2007 season. There he coached tackle John Brost, an All-Mid American Conference and MAC All-Academic selection.

Prior to Northern Illinois, Etheridge spent three seasons as the offensive line coach at the University of North Texas. During his first season the Mean Green led the Sun Belt Conference and ranked 23rd nationally in rushing offense at 196.3 ypg, paced by nation's leader Jamario Thomas at 180.1 ypg. In 2005 Thomas again rushed for 1,000 yards while the offensive line ranked among the league leaders in fewest sacks allowed. North Texas linemen earned five all-conference honors in his three seasons at the school.

Etheridge is no stranger to members of the Cougar staff, having served alongside current Cougar assistants Sears and Niekamp while all three were on Todd Berry's staff at Army. Etheridge spent four seasons as the Black Knight's offensive line coach (2000-03), where in 2001 and 2002 Army led Conference USA in fewest sacks allowed. In 2000, the offensive line paced the way for Michael Wallace, whose 115.7 ypg were tops in Conference USA and 16th nationally.

From 1991-99 Etheridge served as the offensive line coach at Illinois State under head coach Jim Heacock (1991-95) and Todd Berry (1996-99). The 1998 squad reached the Football Championship Subdivision Playoffs while the 1999 team advanced to the national semifinals after capturing the Gateway Conference title. That team finished the year ranked No. 3. During his nine seasons Etheridge coached eight players to 12 all-conference honors and two players, Mike Rodbro and Andy Ziebarth, to All-America status.

Throughout his coaching career Etheridge has coached four All-Americans, 10 all-conference performers and two current NFL players.

The Gallup, N.M., native began his Division I coaching career in 1989 at Kentucky, where he spent three seasons and a graduate assistant coach working with the offensive tackles.

He spent seven seasons in the prep coaching ranks at Gallup (N.M.) High School (1983-86) and Louisville's Ballard (Ky.) HS (1987-89). At Gallup, his teams made four playoff appearances and were district champs each year.

Etheridge was a four-year starting offensive guard for Western New Mexico (1979-82), garnering all-conference honors after his junior and senior seasons. Following graduation, Etheridge spent two seasons as the offensive line coach at Western New Mexico in 1982 and 1983. He earned a bachelor's degree in marketing and management from the school in 1982.

Cougar Assistant Coaches

MIKE LEVENSELLER - 18th Year

The senior statesman on the Cougar coaching staff, Mike Levenseller begins his 18th year on the Cougar sideline where he serves as wide receivers coach on Paul Wulff's staff.

Levenseller has been on the Cougar staff since the beginning of the 1992 season, when he began working with Cougar wide receivers under then-head coach Mike Price. Prior to the 2001 season, Levenseller added offensive coordinator duties to his day-to-day work with wide receivers. As the offensive coordinator, the Cougar pass offense finished in the top 21 nationally each season, including eighth in 2007, 10th in 2001 and 13th in 2002. WSU finished in the top 20 nationally in total offense in each of his first two years as coordinator, including an eighth-place finish in 2005.

Levenseller and eight other receivers he has coached comprise WSU's single-season top 10 receiving yardage list, including recently-graduated Brandon Gibson, who set the single-season record with 1,180 receiving yards in 2007. Under Levenseller's guidance, Jason Hill broke the 1,000-yard mark twice (2005-06), becoming the only WSU receiver with two 1,000-yard campaigns.

Additionally, five different receivers have recorded 1,000-yard seasons under Levenseller while 10 different players have spent time with NFL clubs.

Prior to returning to Washington State, Levenseller coached wide receivers for the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League (1990-91), where he mentored the league's receiver of the year in 1990 (Darrell Smith) and 1991 (Raghib Ismail). He began his coaching career in 1986 with the British Columbia Lions of the CFL, working with wide receivers as a guest coach.

A sixth-round draft pick by the Oakland Raiders of the 1978 NFL Draft, Levenseller spent three years in the NFL with Buffalo, Tampa Bay and Cincinnati, was a member of the Grey Cup-winning Edmonton Eskimos in 1982 and concluded his playing career with Calgary, 1983-85, of the CFL.

Levenseller completed his WSU playing career by being selected to the Pacific-8 First Team, the AP All-West Coast First Team and the AP All-America honorable mention squad in 1978. Levenseller caught 121 passes in his career to rank third on WSU's all-time list and eighth on the league list. His 2,061 career receiving yards ranked second on WSU's all-time list as he was one of only seven receivers to top 2,000 yard mark in Pac-8 history.

In 1992 he was inducted into the WSU Athletic Hall of Fame and in 2006 was inducted into the Pacific Northwest Football Hall of Fame.

TRAVIS NIEKAMP - Second Year

When Paul Wulff began putting his staff together after being named Washington State University's head football coach in December, 2007, he didn't have to look far for his linebackers coach. Travis Niekamp, who coached linebackers on Wulff's staff at Eastern Washington University from 2004-07, arrived with Wulff in Pullman in a similar role. Niekamp is one of five former EWU coaches from Wulff's staff at Eastern Washington now serving on the Cougars' coaching staff.

Before joining the EWU staff in 2004, Niekamp spent the previous four years at the United States Military Academy, where he coached tight ends. While with the Black Knights, he coached with Jody Sears for three seasons.

Prior to his stint at Army, Niekamp spent two seasons at his alma mater Illinois State, coaching outside linebackers in 1999 and defensive tackles in 1998. He was an All-Gateway Conference selection in 1996 and 1997, when he played as a defensive lineman, finishing his career with 170 tackles. That figure included eight quarterback sacks and 22 total tackles-for-loss.

Niekamp was team captain as a senior and was a regular member of the Athletic Director's Honor Roll during his undergraduate days at Illinois State. He graduated from Illinois State in 1998 with a bachelor's degree in exercise science.

A native of Stevens Point, Wis., he was selected as a National Strength and Conditioning All-American in 1997. In high school, he played in the Wisconsin All-Star Shrine Classic.

RICH RASMUSSEN - Second Year

Rich Rasmussen made the move to WSU with Cougar Head Coach Paul Wulff in 2008 after the two worked together as members of the Eagle staff for 11 years. He has spent the previous eight years as an assistant for Wulff.

He spent nine years coaching Eagle tight ends and during his stint at EWU spent time as director of football operations, recruiting coordinator, team travel coordinator and summer camp coordinator.

Rasmussen began coaching at Eastern in 1996 as a student assistant coach on defense, then helped with the offensive line in 1997. He coached running backs in 1998 before taking over as tight ends coach the following season.

While at Eastern Washington, he earned both his undergraduate and graduate degrees. He received his bachelor of science degree in physical education in 1998 (now known as a bachelor of arts in education), then completed his master's degree in athletic administration in 2000.

Rasmussen received an associate degree from Tacoma Community College in 1997 and is a 1983 graduate of Lincoln High School in Tacoma, Wash. He coached at Bellarmine Prep and Mt. Tahoma High Schools prior to joining the EWU staff.

MALIK ROBERSON - Second Year

Malik Roberson made the move to Washington State University with Cougar Head Coach Paul Wulff in 2008 after spending eight years with Wulff at Eastern Washington University.

He spent his first two seasons as an Eagle student assistant working with defensive linemen, then six years as the defensive line coach.

Roberson is no stranger to the WSU campus, spending three seasons in Pullman before transferring to Central Washington. He redshirted at WSU as a freshman in 1989, then played for the Cougars during the 1990 and 1991 seasons, seeing action as both a linebacker and defensive lineman. At CWU, he earned first-team all-conference honors in 1994 and was co-captain of the 1995 squad that won the NAIA Championships, finishing 10-3-1.

Injuries late in his career impacted Roberson's opportunity to continue his football career. He was off-injured during his senior year at CWU and then a neck injury ended his professional aspirations at the NFL combine.

Roberson is a 1989 graduate of Lewis and Clark High School in Spokane and spent three seasons coaching the Tigers linebackers, first in 1992 and 1993 between his Cougar and Wildcat careers, then again in the fall of 1999 before joining the EWU staff.

Roberson, who finished his degree at EWU, is a native of Spokane, Wash.

JODY SEARS - Second Year

Jody Sears, a graduate of Washington State University and former college teammate of Cougar head coach Paul Wulff, returned to his alma mater in 2008 after five years at Eastern Washington University, where he was Wulff's defensive coordinator.

During his stint with the Eagles, he coached safeties, linebackers and defensive ends.

Prior to uniting with Wulff at EWU, Sears was an assistant coach at the United States Military Academy in West Point, N.Y. He served three years on the Black Knight staff, including the 2001 and 2002 season as cornerbacks coach. In 2000, during his rookie year with Army, he assisted with the defensive line.

A 1991 graduate of Washington State University, Sears lettered twice for the Cougars after walking on as a wide receiver. Like Wulff, he played under head coaches Jim Walden, Dennis Erickson and Mike Price during his tenure with the Cougars. He saw limited field duty during the early portion of his Cougar career, then lettered his final two years and finished with 11 career receptions for 118 yards. Sears also served as the holder for All-America placekicker Jason Hansen on field goal and extra point attempts during his senior year.

Following a brief coaching stint on the high school level, Sears served as a graduate assistant at Iowa State University, where he helped coach defensive backs and wide receivers from 1994 through 1996 for the Cyclones. He received his master's degree at Iowa State in 1996.

Sears coached at St. Ambrose University in 1998, assuming responsibilities as the defensive coordinator for the Fighting Bees, who were coached by Todd Sturdy, now WSU's offensive coordinator.

Sears was born Oct. 21, 1967. He is from Pullman, Wash., and graduated from Pullman High School in 1986. He and his wife Molly have five children, Weston (18), Hannah Jo (6), J.T. (5), Kylee Ann (3) and Charlie Ray (2).

TODD STURDY - Second Year

Todd Sturdy, a former head coach at St. Ambrose University, joined the WSU staff of Paul Wulff in 2008 after serving as Wulff's offensive coordinator at Eastern Washington for the 2007 season.

Sturdy was 85-40 in 12 seasons as head coach for the SAU Fighting Bees of Davenport, Iowa. The winningest coach in the program's history, his SAU teams won five Mid-States Football Association-Midwest League championships and had a 42-8 league record in his last seven seasons at the helm, including six straight playoff appearances. In 2006 he was NAIA Region 2 Coach of the Year, with the team going a perfect 10-0 before a first-round loss in the NAIA Championship playoffs.

Sturdy began his coaching career after his freshman year of college, taking over the Tipton High School sophomore baseball team in the summer of 1987. He continued to coach Tipton baseball for the next four seasons as the head sophomore coach and assistant varsity coach.

Sturdy began coaching football in fall 1990 as a graduate assistant for St. Ambrose University while student teaching at Assumption High School. In the spring of 1991 Sturdy was named the director of facilities at St. Ambrose University. He then coached the secondary and special teams under Mike Woodley in 1992 and 1993 and was defensive coordinator in 1994.

In 1995, Sturdy was defensive coordinator at SAU under head coach Chuck Schrader. With seven games remaining in the season, Sturdy became interim head coach and was named the permanent head coach in December.

As a player, Sturdy was a quarterback for St. Ambrose University from 1987-1990, while he earned a bachelor's degree in history education.

Sturdy came to St. Ambrose via Tipton High School, where he played four sports and accumulated 14 varsity letters, three in football, two in basketball, four in track, and five in baseball (one as an eighth grader). He was named All-State as a quarterback and started at quarterback for the South team in the 1986 Shrine Bowl.
