JIM STERK

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Washington native James M. Sterk was appointed Washington State University's director of athletics in June of 2000 and in his four years has seen unprecedented growth and success by the Cougar's 17 intercollegiate teams and 450 individuals who compete for WSU annually.

In the last four years WSU has scored its highest finish ever in the Athletic Director Cup competition among NCAA schools and also has recorded its highest point total

WSU's success on the gridiron the past three years - three consecutive 10-win seasons - has more than done its part to draw national attention to the Cougar sports programs. In the past four years 13 Cougar teams have experienced post-season competition.

Facility improvements have also been among projects Sterk has tackled. WSU recently completed a major baseball field renovation, becoming the first collegiate field to feature FieldTurf as a playing surface. Plans are now also underway for an ambitious capital improvement plan that will enhance many other WSU sport facilities, including major changes to Martin Stadium, home of Cougar football.

A 1979 graduate of Portland State University, Sterk received his master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University. His professional career has included positions at North Carolina, Maine, Seattle Pacific, Tulane and Portland State, the latter as director of Athletics for five years before joining the Cougar staff.

The foundation of Sterk's leadership plan is based on five areas, the student-athlete experience, resource acquisition, personnel, political dynamics and facilities. All five areas have enjoyed growth in his first four years at Washington State University.

Sterk currently is a member of the prestigious NCAA Championship/ Competition cabinet and has served on numerous Pacific-10 Conference committees during his tenure at WSU.

"One of our challenges this season is to replace the legacy and leadership of our defensive unit that graduated last fall. I am pleased with the way personalities have stepped up and embraced the job so far. In our freshman class individuals have the potential to come in and compete right off the bat. We've had a good spring and built a solid foundation to carry us forward. I'm excited to see how our freshman will compliment the existing group. With change comes opportunity, and it will be fun to see who rises to the challenge to separate themselves as the answer.

"I think our midfield will be a big indicator as to our success this season. We return a very solid group and we have added some quality players that are going to make it a very competitive unit across the board. We are obviously looking to Christie Spear and Cailan McCutchan to build and play in the manner they did last year and to set and maintain standards. Christie also has the responsibility as team captain, so we are looking to her to continue to set standards and take responsibility for the team. We have versatility in the way we can play in the midfield. We can play with natural wide players in Carmen, Keegan or Jessica Gerstmann, to name a few. We have also added some exciting talent in our incoming class, notably Molly Alexander, Natalie Elkind and Shay Harrel who all come from successful programs. This freshman group is used to competing at a very high level and are used to winning."

"I can't wait to see this group finally get its reward. With the loss of the 'lions share' of our scoring to graduation, this season will be a great opportunity for this group to shine and make an impact on a consistent basis. Last season Haley, Alix and Sarah were all very patient dividing their time but judging by their performances in the spring it will be an exciting time of change. Add to that the potential of our incoming class and it makes for an exciting fall. It is going to be fun to see what they can bring and what impact they will now make on the program."

NOTEABLES

In 2003 the forward line scored 14 of WSU's 16 goals and was credited with six of the Cougars nine assists.

ntering the 2004-05 season, the Pacific-10 Conference continues to uphold its tradition as the "Conference of Champions." Pac-10 members have claimed an incredible 84 NCAA team titles over the past nine seasons, for an average of more than eight championships per academic year.

Even more impressive is the breadth of the Pac-10's success, as those 84 team titles over the past nine seasons have come in 21 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-10 has now led the nation in NCAA Championships 39 of the last 44 years and finished second five times.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletic achievement, the Pac-10 has captured 336 NCAA titles (246 men's, 90 women's), far outdistancing the runner-up Big Ten Conference's 197 titles.

The Conference's reputation is further proven in the annual United States Sports Academy Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. STANFORD continued its remarkable run in the 2003-04 season, winning its 10th consecutive United States Sports Academy Directors' Cup. In the 2003-04 competition, four of the top-10 and seven of the top-20 Division I programs were Pac-10 members: No. 1 STANFORD, No. 3 UCLA, No. 8 WASHINGTON, No. 9 CALIFORNIA, No. 15 ARIZONA, No. 16 ARIZONA STATE and No. 20 USC.

The Pac-10 captured 11 NCAA titles in 2003-04, more than double of any other conference. The Pac-10 total of 11 NCAA titles was followed by the Southeastern Conference, which was runnerup with five NCAA crowns, and the Big Ten, which had four. And it should be noted that the Pac-10 total does not include USC's national championship in football or CALIFORNIA's in rugby, as they are not counted as NCAA titles. The 11 titles for the Pac-10 is the most for the Conference since it had 11 in 1997-98. The Pac-10 had the most NCAA titles of any conference in women's sports with eight, and tied with the SEC and Big Ten for most in men's sports with three. NCAA team champions from the Pac-10 in 2003-04 came from: UCLA (women's gymnastics, women's golf, softball, women's track and field), STANFORD (men's and women's cross country and women's tennis), USC (women's volleyball and men's and women's water polo) and CALIFORNIA (men's golf). The Pac-10 also had runners-up in six NCAA Championship events: men's golf (UCLA), men's and women's tennis (UCLA), men's swimming and diving (STANFORD), men's water polo (STANFORD) and softball (CALIFORNIA). Overall, the Conference had 21 teams finish in the top three at NCAA Championship events.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 23 years ago, Pac-10 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 15 occasions. Overall, the Pac-10 has captured 90 NCAA women's crowns, easily outdistancing the Southeastern Conference, which is second with 60. Pac-10 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 17 softball titles, 15 tennis crowns, nine of the last 14 volleyball titles, 11 of the last 15 trophies in golf and eight of the last 16 in swimming and diving.

Pac-10 women athletes shine nationally on an individual basis as well, having captured an unmatched 428 NCAA individual titles, an average of nearly 19 champions per season.

"This year is truly a season of challenge and change. I believe with the lessons we learned from the last season and with the solid foundation we have in place, our team has the opportunity and personality to have a great year. It will come down to individuals' commitment and day to day efforts that will determine whether as a team we achieve success. We are all a work in progress to be the best we can be. I can't wait to get the season started."

-Matt Potter, WSU Head Soccer Coach

Matt Potter HEAD COACH

Washington State Head Soccer Coach Matt Potter is excited about the upcoming season and believes that with focus, commitment and hard work, the team will continue to grow and make the most of their opportunities.

"We remain committed to the goals and traditions of the program," Potter said. "We want to be a top team in the Pac-10, a post season team and most importantly we want to continue to facilitate the success of our student-athletes while at Washington State and beyond. We have great team chemistry and a talented group of student athlete's both on the field and in the classroom."

Potter is a USSAF "A" licensed coach and is currently the Region IV Olympic Development Program (ODP) head coach for the girls 87 age group and has been on the regional ODP staff since 1998.

Before coming to WSU Potter was the head of the Scottsdale Community College women's soccer team. In just one season at Scottsdale he led the Artichokes to a 9-7-1 record and to the 2002 ACCAC playoffs.

Potter was with the Sereno Soccer Club in Arizona for eight years where he was a head coach and trainer for several teams. He led his '88 girls team to a Region IV, regional second place finish, three third place finishes and four Arizona state titles. His 88 team was consistently ranked an s one of the top 10 teams in the nation, and both his 88 team and 84 girls squad were ranked as top ten teams in Region IV for five years. His 84 team took state seven years in a row. Nine of Potter's players made the Region IV regional team and three made the youth national team pool.

As a central midfielder, Potter has competed at the top level of soccer, playing professionally for the Watford F.C. in England. He was a member of the Great Britain Students squad, a team made of top college players that won the National British Colleges title in 1991. Potter also represented England at the U-19 International level.

Potter places a lot of emphasis on academics and that his players excel in the classroom and the playing field, which is fitting because his educational background is in teaching. Potter graduated from West London College in 1992 with an honors degree in physical education and religious, social and moral education. He took a position with Noga Soccer in New York and Arizona in 1993, coaching, establishing and developing a curricularity.

lishing and developing a curriculum and coordinating clinics and camps. Potter earned the Preliminary and Teaching Awards from the English Football Association.

Potter, a native of Mere, England, is married to Olga and has three stepdaughters, Marissa, Andrea, Valerie and a daughter, Cassidy.

Kirk Nelson Assistant Coach

Kirk Nelson will join the Washington State soccer team as an assistant coach for the 2004 season. Nelson comes to the Palouse from Phoenix Ariz., where he coached several different levels of women's soccer, including serving as the assistant for the W-League Arizona Heatwave and Scottsdale Community College. His responsibilities at WSU will be coordinating player recruitment and assisting in the day to day operations of the program.

"Kirk possesses boundless energy and enthusiasm. He will complement our existing staff and I am positive as a team we will continue to build on the goals I have outlined for the program," WSU Head Coach Matt Potter said.

Nelson has been coaching soccer for 10 years and has been in Arizona since 1997. In the summer of 1997 he started the girls soccer program at Desert Vista High School where he served as the head varsity coach for eight years. His teams reached regional playoffs five times and State playoffs four times including the 5A State Championship in 2004. At Desert Vista he was honored with the Central Region Coach of the Year award in 2003 and the Arizona All-Southeast Valley and Arizona All-East Valley Girls Soccer Coach of the Year awards in 2004. In 2003 he earned his 'B' license from the United States Soccer Federation.

In 2004 Nelson was hired as the assistant coach for the Arizona Heatwave, a W-League team, where his primary responsibilities were player recruitment. He also served as an assistant coach from 2002-03 at Scottsdale Community College where he assisted Coach Potter.

Nelson has worked with the Arizona ODP program since 2001, working as a head scout and as a staff coach, working with player development. He has also been a Region IV ODP Regional staff coach since 2002.

Nelson has served as the head coach for the '86, '87, '90 and '91 girls teams of the AriZona Futbol Club since 1999. His '90 and '91 teams reached the State Championships in 2002 and 2003, earning Nelson the AFC Coach of the Year award in 2003.

"I am excited and thankful to have been provided this opportunity at Washington State University," Nelson said. "Working in a superior team environment with exceptional coaches, such as Matt and Lindsay Jorgensen, and outstanding players, like the group at WSU, has been an ambition of mine. I am looking forward to helping the vision of the program come to fruition."

Nelson played soccer at Virginia Tech from 1989-90 and received his BS degree in finance from the University of Maryland in 1993. He earned his high school teaching certificate from the University of Phoenix in 1997, majoring in mathematics. He and his wife, Michelle, have one son, Brock.

Lindsey Jorgensen
Assistant Coach

Lindsey Jorgensen is entering her second season as an assistant coach at Washington State. Jorgensen is a former Cougar keeper (1998-2001) who set several records and earned numerous accolades during her career. She brings extensive goalkeeping knowledge and the experience of being a WSU student-athlete to the program. Jorgensen will assist with all coaching duties, but will focus primarily on training and developing the goalkeeping unit.

"Lindsey continues to grow and blossom in the role of assistant coach. She is a wonderful person and is a key member of our soccer staff and team," Potter said. "As a former student athlete and honors college student she represents all that is good in Washington State and continues to pass on that knowledge to future and current athletes."

In 2003 Jorgensen was the Washington State women's soccer volunteer assistant; training goalkeepers and assisting with recruiting and office duties. She was the assistant varsity girls' soccer coach as Mount Si High School in 2002, and an assistant for the U-12 Eastside FC girls B-team out of Bellevue, Wash. Jorgensen has worked several soccer camps including serving as the director of the Seattle Sounders Girls Soccer Camp in 2003 and as a camp coach in 2000 and 2001. She was the goalkeeper director for the Washington State University Women's Soccer Camp from 2000-2003.

Jorgensen was the starting goalkeeper for Washington State from 1998-2001, and a captain of the 2000 NCAA tournament team. Jorgensen earned numerous accolades while at Washington State including; Verizon/CoSIDA District VIII Women's Fall/Winter At-Large First Team All-American (2000), Verizon/CoSIDA At-Large Women's Fall/Winter National Third Team All-Academic (1999, 2000), WSU Athletics Top 50 Student Athlete Award (2000, 2001), Pac-10 All-Academic First Team (1999, 2000), Pac-10 All-Conference Second Team (2000, 2001). Jorgensen was also well-respected by her teammates, earning the team awards of; co-MVP (1998-2000), Team captain (1999-2001) and most inspirational player (2000).

Jorgensen was a member of the founding Seattle Sounders (Wleague) women's soccer team (1999-2002). She also played for the Hibernian and Caldonian Saints (Seattle, Wash.) from 2000-2002 and was invited to tryout for the San Jose Cyberrays of the WUSA in 2002
